Widen food security Act coverage, SC tells Centre

Says govt did not undertake any exercise to redetermine coverage

Why not all-party meet on freebies, asks apex court

SHAMBHAVI SHUKLA
New Delhi, 24 August

The Supreme Court directed the Centre to come out with a white paper on the total beneficiaries under the National Food Security Act (NFSA) are not restricted in accordance with the Census 2011. And, more and more needy persons get the benefits under the Act.

Reacting to mind that the "Right to Food" is a fundamental right embedded under Article 21 of the Constitution, in 2021, the apex court directed the Centre to re-determine coverage age-wise coverage in the ration system of the NFSA.

"The Union of India did not undertake any exercise to re-determine coverage under the Act. Therefore, the current petition was filed in the Supreme Court," said Anjali Bhardwaj, one of the petitioners in the case.

The counsel submitted, in his affidavit, that the Act requires coverage to be updated in accordance with the latest Census figures. However, the 2021 Census has been postponed indefinitely and no data has been notified regarding its publication. So, coverage under the Act cannot be re-determined, the Centre added.

During the hearing, it was pointed out by the counsel for petitioners that due to the coverage not being increased, despite the increase in population, more than 100 million people have been left out of the purview of the food security.

They should have been included now.

The counsel for petitioners in light of the delay in the allotment of Census 2021, the government could use official reliable projections published by the health ministry's panel's coverage.

Taking note of the submission, the apex court directed government to "look into" the same and come out with a "wide and/or appropriate conclusion, if any, so that benefits under NFSA are restricted based on the Census 2011.

And, more and more needy persons/citizens get the benefit under the National Food Security Act, keeping in mind what has been observed and held by this court in a series of decisions that Right to Food is a fundamental right available under Article 21 of the Constitution.

The Centre may look into the same by considering the figures/projection of population (consensus) during 2011-2021. This would be on an assessment of the increase in population and the state-wise allocation of foodgrains.

Pointing out the need for registration of unorganised sector workers, the court said that governments should ensure such people can access benefits under various welfare schemes and policies.

The matter was heard on July 21 and the order was reserved. The case would be listed again on September 27.

rdai eases firm registration process from 8 to 2 months

SUBRATA PANDA
Mumbai, 24 August

The registration process of new companies has been eased by substantially reducing the time taken to process new applications from 6-8 months to two, Debasish Panda, chairman, Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Irdai) said on Wednesday.

The regulator has created a facilitation cell consisting of two officers for handholding the applicants so that the entity gets the approval to start the operations. "We have put up a guidance document to make it easier for new applicant so that there is room for an additional player," Panda said speaking at a CII event.

This is one among the many steps taken by the regulator to promote ease of doing business in the insurance sector. Panda is of the opinion that the insurance is no longer at a nascent stage and therefore it was time to give the players more flexibility and freedom to operate.

"Thereby, we are moving from a rule-based regulatory regime to a principle-based one," Panda said.

The insurance industry is poised to grow at an accelerated pace. Insurance penetration as a percentage of gross domestic product (GDP) has doubled in the past 20 years, according to Irdai data.

"WE HAVE PUT UP GUIDANCE DOCUMENT TO MAKE IT EASIER FOR NEW APPLICANTS SO THAT THERE IS ROOM FOR AN ADDITIONAL PLAYER... WE ARE MOVING FROM A RULE-BASED REGULATORY REGIME TO A PRINCIPLE-BASED ONE"

DEBASISH PANDA, Irdai chairman

Insurance penetration in the country is at 4.2 per cent as of 2021, which is higher than China, but lower than developed countries.

"We are not satisfied with where we are and want to catch up not only with the world average but also with the developed countries," Irdai chairman said.

The regulator has given many aspirational growth targets to life and non-life companies to increase the insurance penetration in the country. As of 2021, India's insurance industry has a gross written premium (GWP) of $103 billion. The regulator intends to grow India's GWP to $400 billion by 2027, a growth of 10 per cent over the next five years.

"We have kept an unidentified growth target of 10 per cent. And I am glad to see that many CEOs are quite optimistic about this our targets, and they are all striving to get," Panda said.

Among initiatives that the regulator intends to take to further propel growth in the sector is to encourage insurers to get themselves onboarded on "Bima Sugam", a digital platform for selling, servicing, and redressing claims. It is coming and play will start with an API interface.

"I promise you (platform) would be a game changer as far as insurance is concerned," Panda said.

Question papers exempt from GST, not answer sheets: AAR

RUSHABH DHOKHANI
New Delhi, 24 August

Printing of university forms such as question papers, admit cards, pass certificates, ID cards on contract basis for a school board does not attract the goods and services tax (GST). However, printing answer booklets does, the Authority for Advance Rulings (AAR) of Karnataka has said.

The ruling was passed in a petition filed by Bengaluru-based PES Centre for Learning on GST rates on services supplied to the Karnataka State Education Examination Board (KSEEB).

The applicant proposed to submit a bid in response to the tender floated by Karnataka's Secondary Education Examination Board, which is about to issue the tender for conducting the Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) examinations for the academic year 2022-23.

The applicant proposed to submit a bid in response to the tender floated by KSEEB.

The authority ruled that printing stationery items as detailed above constitutes supply of services to an educational institution and, hence, is exempt from GST.

The AAR observed that according to a circular issued by the government, if the essential feature of the supply of printed product is printing, it would be classified as the supply of services and would be exempt from GST. However, if this is not the case, it would be considered as supply of goods and would come under the GST's purview.

The AAR noted that PES Centre would be supplying the items such as question papers with the content supplied by the Board and, hence, inferred that printing in this case is the "principle supply" to the education institution.

As regards supply of answer booklets and envelopes for packing these booklets, the court ruled that the usage of the product gives it essential characteristics, while printing is an ancillary activity.

Therefore, it concluded that these attract 18 per cent GST.

Amit Maheshwari, tax partner at AKM Global, a tax and consulting firm stated, "The AAR has provided a clear line for distinguishing printed material into goods and services based on the essential character."
